

Hi Susan,

I received a call from George Sipe of Weldon Solutions as a result of the corrective action letter we sent out. The letter was sent to Weldon Solutions because they had purchased Emtrol at some point in the past. George explained to me that Weldon actually just purchased some of Emtrol's assets/designs/drawings and other intellectual propoerty, not the propoerty or actual facility. George thought that Emtrol's facility was located where York Technical Institute is currently located. George also said the bank seized Emtrol's assets in 2004 at the time which Emtrol ceased operations.

Hopefully this is of some help to you while you are in the process of gathering background information for the EI at this site.
